

Research to find out what support disabled adult rape victim-survivors need

What you need to know to sign this consent form.

We are an experienced team of disabled and non-disabled researchers, who are passionate about ending violence against disabled people.

We work for the University of Leeds, Liverpool Hope University, Stay Safe East (a user-led service for disabled victim-survivors) and Sign Health (a user-led service for deaf victim-survivors).

We do not know enough about the support needs of disabled adults who experience rape and/or sexual assault.

The only people who can tell us about this are the disabled victim-survivors themselves.

We would like you to take part in an interview so that your voice and opinions are heard.

Research to find out what support disabled adult rape victim-survivors need

Your views will be used to help create better support services for other disabled adult rape victim-survivors in the future.

The research team will also write other publications about what people have said, to enable more people to learn about the needs and experiences of people like you.
